About Pooley Incorporated

Samuel H. Pooley founded our company in 1932 at the age of 65. His motto at our inception, "The House that Service Built" continues to define us today. Our goal at Pooley is to help our customers by providing the best value solution with great quality products in combination with exceptional service.

Our large, dynamic inventory is a key component of our value proposition. Another key component is our in-house fabrication capabilities along with on-site installation services. Pooley fabricates and installs conveyor belting, hoses, casters and wheels, as well as assembling gearboxes at our two new facilities. To complement our fabrication capabilities, Pooley has created a service group which will perform machining work, as well as the repair and rebuild of most mechanical components. Our 24/7 emergency service is a valuable offering for today's critical production schedules.

Pooley is a premier distributor for many of the best manufacturers in industry today. We provide world class products and innovative solutions. Our products in power transmission and bearings, along with material handling products, will help you minimize downtime. Please call our state-of-the-art facilities and our skilled service technicians will help to get you up and running quickly and efficiently.
